ALL TOGETHER BETTER HEALTH IX
3 – 6 SEPTEMBER 2018, AUCKLAND

The conference theme was Collaborative Practice and Interprofessional Education – Transforming the Landscape of Healthcare (Ohomairangi te Hauora Manaaki). Whilst the conference provided an excellent opportunity to learn more about interprofessional education (IPE) and collaborative practice (CP) – IPECP –, it also was a thoroughly fun and enjoyable experience meeting and networking with like-minded people from across the globe.

The conference was well-attended by over 300 people, with representation from over 22 countries including Australia, Brazil, Canada, Denmark, Finland, Germany, India, Indonesia, Japan, Malaysia, Netherlands, New Zealand, Qatar, Saudi Arabia, Singapore, South Africa, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Thailand, United Kingdom and the United States.

CAIPE was well represented:

Chair: Richard Pitt; Vice Chairs: Maggie Hutchings and Sundari Joseph; Honorary Fellow: Liz Anderson; Board Members: Jenny Ford, Chris Sanders and Sharon Buckley; Company Secretary: Ann Ewens Members: Neena Lakhani, Marion Huber, Heloise Agreli, Michael Sy, Travis Norton, Kalyaani Vickneswaran, Priya Martin, Alla El-Awaisi, Kirsty Hyndes, Joanne Keeling, Hester Smeets, and Anne Smart.

A full report featuring the presentations of our three CAIPE Scholarship winners will appear in the next Newsletter.

Digital stories about Interprofessional Education and Practice

Stories help people make sense of experiences – their own and others. They can be a particularly beneficial way for participants to process difficult, confusing or painful experiences, and to share those experiences with others. CAIPE members have over the years made frequent use of the Patient Voices' (www.patientvoices.org.uk) extensive catalogue of digital stories for their own work in promoting and teaching interprofessional education (IPE) and interprofessional collaborative practice.

Although there are many digital stories addressing health and social care issues, there are few that specifically address and focus upon interprofessional education, interprofessional collaboration, or teamwork. CAIPE has now resolved this omission and made a resource for stories specifically relating to IPE. A series of nine digital stories has been produced by a group of CAIPE members attending a Patient Voices workshop funded and sponsored by CAIPE.

Each participant has produced a rich and personal story of their journey to IPE and continuing work in promoting the principles and values of IPE either as a service user, practitioner, teacher, student or IPE leader. See: <https://www.caipe.org/resources/digital-stories>

Many thanks to Elizabeth Howkins and Richard Gray for leading on this major development and resource for CAIPE Members. thank you to the nine CAIPE Members that shared their stories.

PHIPEC 2018

The PHIPEC 2018 is the first-ever national conference held in the Philippines on interprofessional education and collaboration (IPEC). It was initiated through an inter-university partnership (Angeles University Foundation [AUF] and University of Santo Tomas [UST]) to facilitate uniform understanding of IPEC across higher education institutions and health facilities as well as instigate research and curriculum creation on IPEC to facilitate improved health outcomes for the Filipino population. The historical event was held in the University of Santo Tomas (Manila, Philippines) last 11–12 August 2018. The two-day conference gathered over 80 participants from more than 10 health and social care professions (i.e., occupational therapy, physical therapy, speech–language pathology, nursing, medicine, social work, psychology, dentistry, pharmacy, public health, health professions education). Moreover, a total of 15 speakers shared their expertise in health education and practice in light of IPEC.

The King's Fund Social prescribing: coming of age 6th November 2018 London

Following the sell-out event last year, this year will be moving from examining the case for social prescribing and the benefits it offers to exploring the ways in which it can be embedded and implemented. In collaboration with the College of Medicine and the Social Prescribing Network, they will look at how it can be measured and the impact it is already having on outcomes for patients.

Come along to this event to hear from local areas around the country who have implemented social prescribing models and can report on their learning and outcomes and provide practical resources for commissioners, clinicians and voluntary and community organisations looking to adopt and implement social prescribing in their own locality.

5 Year Action Plan For Health Employment And Inclusive Economic Growth (2017–2021)

In its report entitled Working for health and growth: investing in the health workforce, the High-Level Commission on Health Employment and Economic Growth (“the Commission”) proposed 10 recommendations and five immediate actions to transform the health and social workforce for the achievement of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development. Implementation of these will require game-changing interventions and action by Member States, led by ministries of health, education, employment and finance, as well as the international community.

Dismantling the long-held belief that investment in the health workforce is a drag on the economy, the Commission found that health workforce investments coupled with the right policy action could unleash enormous socioeconomic gains in quality education, gender equality, decent work, inclusive economic growth, and health and well-being. This paradigm shift provides new political impetus for Member States to implement WHO’s global strategy on human resources for health: Workforce 2030<sup>2</sup> adopted by the Sixty-ninth World Health Assembly in May 2016.
